Abstract

This template is meant to provide an easy onboarding with LaTeX. We recommend using VSCode with the remote containers extensions. Once you open this repository, you are asked to reopen in a container.

This container provides many useful features, such as

- Automatic LaTeXcompilation on save.
- PDF Preview on the side. You can click in the PDF to find the LaTeXsource code, or you can sync our PDF view with your current Tex-File.
- Many useful keyboard shortcuts, e.g. for bold or italic text.
- Automatic grammar check using Ltex Extension. It uses LanguageTool internally.
- Automatic spell check. You will see little yellow indicators in the editor.
- Many more. . . you can provide pull requests to list your favorites features here.

1 Introduction

Always start a chapter with a short but informative text about the following sections. Point out the relevance of the sections and create interconnections between them. Never ever just write a single sentence here. Furthermore, you are strongly advised to respect the hints given in this template.

1.1 Motivation

What is your motivation to deal with this subject? Which interesting problems do you expect? Do not abbreviate "e. g." within a sentence, always write "for example". However, within in parentheses you are allowed to abbreviate and use, e. g., and, i. e., as shown here: with a comma right before and after it. In addition to that, ensure correct spacing by using `\,` in between.

1.2 Related Work

List related work and the result of this work! What is the relevance of this work concerning your thesis? If necessary, emphasize some words in your text, for example words like not or and are sometimes crucial for understanding.

2 Work Packages

2.1 Overview

In this section, a short description of all work packages is presented.

2.2 Detailed Description

In this section, a detailed description of each work package is introduced by answering the following questions:

- What is the problem/challenge which will be solved?
- How this problem/challenge is planned to be solved?
- How much time is planned to finalize the work package?

3 Organization of this Thesis

Please give a general overview on how your thesis is divided into sections and chapters, e.g., a table of contents.
